

VPA Inc is your union

Constant restructuring, contracting out, job cuts and tough negotiations over pay and conditions are a challenge for everyone.

It pays to belong to the VPA

You may need advice on your rights at work, or someone to represent you or argue your case. In negotiations with your employer, you will need the collective strength that comes from working together, to secure the best deal for yourself and your colleagues.

We are independent and not affiliated to any political party. Our objective is to protect and further your interests as our member.

VPA agreements provide key conditions of employment:

Professional Indemnity Insurance

VPA Inc membership includes protection against legal liability arising out of your employment. Because we purchase our professional indemnity insurance at a group rate, it is more comprehensive than most individual policies. Unlike some professional indemnity policies, it also includes representation at the Psychology Registration Board of Australia and at the Coroner's Court, should you need it.

To make sure that you're covered, you must complete the Professional Indemnity Insurance Declaration on the membership application overleaf.

You must have your own insurance if you have a private practice.

Additional benefits include:

- ✓ Discounted shopping through Union Shopper: savings on a variety of home and personal goods
- ✓ Legal advice: access to a free initial consultation with a solicitor in relation to personal matters
- ✓ Members Equity Bank: low-cost banking for union members, including low-cost personal and home loans
- ✓ WorkCover assistance: access to Union Assist, a specialist service for union members that provides expert advice and representation on WorkCover matters.
